

Business Intelligence for Product Management

Insurance product managers set and direct the development of new insurance products, following the product lifecycle policy and the general insurance strategy. They are tasked with analyzing data around market trends for product needs as well as understanding what factors will affect consumer confidence in future product offerings. Understanding the supporting market data is imperative to the success of future product launches.

Data Model Tailored to the P&C Insurance Industry

Most horizontal solutions offer a one-size-fits-all approach that is too generic to provide the policy detail that you need and limits analysis capabilities. Our insurance data warehouse model design follows industry-proven dimension- modeling standards, and stores data at the lowest possible level of granularity. Concise policy information is detailed down to the coverage and risk parameter level. Claim information includes individual payments, historical reserve estimates and full tracking of claim status changes.

The WaterStreet Business Intelligence insurance data model was built for P&C insurance from the ground up, and therefore is highly optimized for fast and flexible insurance-specific queries. A lot of work and effort has been put into each calculation method, index, fact table and other data structures to achieve a highly efficient yet standards-compliant P&C insurance data warehouse.

WaterStreet Advantage

Key Data Insights

WaterStreet provides many out-of-the-box reports which are critical to running an insurance business effectively. Our extensive library of reports and dashboards takes advantage of a rich data model to provide reporting at levels most carriers cannot access. Even better, standard reports can be quickly customized to company-specific needs.

Industry Data Experts

Our configuration engineers and data analysts are all AIDA certified through the institutes and continuously work to improve data models to better serve the P&C industry.
